LIGHTHOUSE CENTRAL FLORIDA ADDS STEPHEN SALLEY TO ITS BOARD OF DIRECTORS

ORLANDO, Fla. (May 10, 2023) – Lighthouse Central Florida, an Orlando-based nonprofit that provides vision rehabilitation services to individuals living with blindness and/or other visual impairments, recently added Stephen Salley to its Board of Directors.

A Partner Emeritus at BanyanGlobal, Salley was a tax attorney and family business consultant in his latest role before retiring in 2022. He brings more than 35 years of legal expertise, business experience and nonprofit involvement to the Lighthouse Central Florida Board.

“Stephen’s incredible background in the legal profession, as well as his passion and dedication to giving back to the community will make him a great addition to our board,” said Kyle Johnson, president and CEO of Lighthouse Central Florida. “With his experience, business connections and community involvement, he will be essential as we help those living with blindness and visual impairments live, learn and earn with vision loss.”

Salley has been an active participant in the nonprofit community throughout Central Florida, often volunteering his time to help those in need for organizations such as Coalition for the Homeless and Give Kids the World.

“I am looking forward to supporting the Lighthouse Central Florida team in their efforts to provide crucial training and rehabilitation services to an often-overlooked community,” said Salley. “I strongly believe my legal and nonprofit experience can greatly benefit the organization.”

Salley received his bachelor's degree at Harvard College and both his Juris Doctor and Master of Law in Taxation from the University of Florida. An Orlando resident and avid outdoorsman, he has climbed Mount Kilimanjaro, hiked the Appalachian Trail and canoed Northern Canada.
